Vows to do what it takes to keep Trump out of the Oval Office.

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Rep. Liz Cheney (R-Wyo.) said hours after losing her reelection primary to Trump-backed challenger Harriet Hageman that she is "thinking about" running for president.

"That's a decision that I'm gonna make in the coming months, and I'm not gonna make any announcements here this morning. But it is something that I am thinking about and I'll make a decision in the coming months," Cheney told NBC's "Today" show early Wednesday when pressed on if she is thinking about a White House bid.
