To many Americans, Trump is a political pariah who planned a coup to remain in power after he lost the 2020 election and is on the verge of indictment in several investigations.

PALM BEACH, Fla. — Former President Trump, facing questions about his influence over the Republican Party, on Tuesday announced his entry into the 2024 race for the White House.

Trump made the announcement during a much-anticipated event at Mar-a-Lago, his private estate and club in Palm Beach, Fla., just a week after a lackluster midterm election performance denied Republicans the “red wave” they had long anticipated and led to days of finger-pointing within the party.

The former president on Tuesday made good on months of hinting that he could mount a comeback bid after losing reelection to President Biden in 2020.
