Trump pursued a multi-pronged plan to remain in office, turning to the DOJ, state officials and even his own supporters, who ransacked the Capitol after then-Vice President Mike Pence refused Trump's request to overturn the election results.

WASHINGTON, DC - Former President Trump said Tuesday morning that he has been alerted he is a target of the Justice Department's Jan. 6 investigation focusing on his efforts to stay in power after losing the 2020 election.

Trump said in a post on Truth Social he received the "target letter" Sunday evening.
