Governor announces two new grant programs designed to support veterans' mental health.

MILWAUKEE — Gov. Tony Evers, together with Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) Secretary James Bond, announced Thursday 16 nonprofit organizations are receiving Veteran Mental Health Community-Based Organization Grant funding to promote positive mental health through activities, programs, and services that enhance the emotional, psychological, and social well-being of Wisconsin veterans. In addition to announcing organizations that will receive Veteran Mental Health Community-Based Organization Grant funding, Gov. Evers today also announced two additional veteran mental health grants for mental health providers—the Emergency Mental Health Grant to serve veterans with crisis or emergency mental health needs and the Ancillary Mental Health Grant for licensed providers to administer mental health services to veterans.

"Last year, I created the Blue Ribbon Commission on Veteran Opportunity to make recommendations and develop solutions for how we can support our state's veterans, and I'm proud to say we're seeing the real results of our work to help ensure Wisconsin's 300,000 veterans have more tools and resources they need to be successful," said Gov. Evers. "2023 is the Year of Mental Health in Wisconsin, and an important part of our efforts to support our veterans includes making sure we're addressing the mental and behavioral health challenges facing veterans across our state. These grants are a critically important part of this work and will help meet our veterans' unique needs and ensure they have the support to live full, healthy lives."

The Veteran Mental Health Community-Based Organization Grants are part of Gov. Evers' $10 million investment in veterans services, which was funded through the American Rescue Plan Act and based on recommendations released by the Governor's Blue Ribbon Commission on Veteran Opportunity

. In his

2022 State of the State address

that he would be signing an executive order creating the Commission to develop new, innovative initiatives to support the more than 300,000 veterans who live in Wisconsin. The Commission was charged with identifying gaps in existing services, areas in need of robust investment, and reducing barriers to economic security, including efforts to expand access to higher education and job training, address housing insecurity, and increase mental and behavioral health support and substance use disorder treatment. Following the release of the Commission's final report and recommendations in September 2022, Gov. Evers announced this $10 million investment in veterans services across the state, and more details about the investment are available

"Serving veterans is a collective effort," said DVA Secretary Bond. "This is especially true when it comes to mental health. I'm grateful to these nonprofits who are in their communities working with veterans to improve their mental well-being. Their good work sends a vital message to all Wisconsin veterans—you are not alone."
