More than 200 days since the biennial budget was enacted, Republicans have yet to release $125 million in already-approved funds to address PFAS contamination across the state.

MADISON — Gov. Tony Evers Tuesday night, during his 2024 State of the State address, again urged Republicans in the Wisconsin State Legislature to release $125 million in funds to address per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) contamination that were approved more than 200 days ago.

Relevant excerpts from Gov. Evers' 2024 State of the State address are available below:

“There is, as always, more we can do. And that work begins in earnest here tonight.”
