

Mueller testimony likely to be delayed

Written by The Hill Press

Friday, 12 July 2019 09:42 - Last Updated Friday, 12 July 2019 10:00

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Special counsel Robert Mueller's public testimony before Congress is likely to be postponed until July 24, two sources familiar with the matter told The Hill.

The sources cautioned that the situation is fluid and is pending a final agreement by the Democrats on his appearance.

Read the full story here