

Supreme Court comes to Trump's aid on immigration

Written by The Hill Press

Saturday, 14 September 2019 15:10 -

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Supreme Court has repeatedly come to President Trump's aid over the border, bolstering his efforts to build a wall and turn aside migrants seeking asylum on the southern border.

The latest example came Wednesday night, when the court issued an unsigned order allowing the administration's stringent new asylum policy to remain in place while battles over its legality continue.

Read the full story here