

Conservation Voters Announce Change the Climate 2020

Written by Wisconsin Conservation Voters, Ryan Billingham

Tuesday, 14 January 2020 15:38 - Last Updated Wednesday, 15 January 2020 15:47

Climate change at top of voters' minds in presidential primaries.

MADISON – On Wednesday, Jan. 15 at 10:30 a.m., Wisconsin Conservation Voters and its national partner, the League of Conservation Voters (LCV), will announce the details of its Change the Climate 2020 program designed to elevate the climate crisis in the 2020 Democratic presidential primary.

According to a new survey of likely Democratic presidential primary voters in Colorado, Michigan, and Wisconsin, conducted for the LCV, addressing climate change is a defining policy position in how voters will choose their presidential candidate – tied at the top of the list along with health care.

Leadership from Wisconsin Conservation Voters, LCV, Conservation Colorado, and the Michigan League of Conservation Voters will discuss new polling and the landscape on the ground in each of their states, as well as the support for immediate action on climate change and other environmental priorities.

WHAT: Press call to announce Wisconsin Conservation Voters' and LCV's expanded climate work in 2020.

Conservation Voters Announce Change the Climate 2020

Written by Wisconsin Conservation Voters, Ryan Billingham

Tuesday, 14 January 2020 15:38 - Last Updated Wednesday, 15 January 2020 15:47

WHO:

- Kerry Schumann, Executive Director of Wisconsin Conservation Voters
- Lisa Wozniak, Executive Director of the Michigan League of Conservation Voters
- Kelly Nordini, Executive Director of Conservation Colorado
- Matt McKnight, Director of LCV's Change the Climate 2020 Program
- Andrew Baumann, Senior Vice President of Research for Global Strategy Group

WHEN: Wednesday, Jan. 15 at 10:30 a.m.