The fossil fuel industry receives about $650 billion in subsidies and renewables only receive about 27 billion. Republicans in Congress have either not understood the issue, or they choose to ignore it.

Brookfield, WI – The major challenge with climate change and why so many people either deny it, or chose to ignore it, is that they can't see it. Democrat Tom Palzewicz, running for the Fifth Congressional District seat, wants Americans to examine the facts and take decisive action in encouraging politicians to deal with the issue.

Most people look for leadership in Congress, and desire that their representatives act in the best interest of the district and its citizens. But Republicans in Congress either do not understand the severity of the issue of climate change, or they choose to ignore it.
