Why Hillary Clinton lost, what we should do now, and how to share your thoughts on our website.

MADISON - I was on the local CBS affiliate last night when the news rolled in of Donald Trump's improbable victory, and I wanted to share with you my thoughts on the meaning of this election.

My first response was one of shock and horror:

Good night, America!

Then I put my analytical hat on to try to figure out why Hillary Clinton lost:

What happened??? 10 reasons why Donald Trump won

And finally, I gave some thought to what we should do now:

Where to from here?

Please feel free to share your own thoughts on these subjects on our website, or you can always email me at rothschild@wisdc.org.

Best,

P.S. If you're in the Madison area tomorrow night, we're having a post-mortem at Marigold's Kitchen from 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m., 118 S. Pinckney St, right off the Capitol Square. Congressman Mark Pocan and former State Senator Dale Schultz will be speaking, as will Dana Schultz of Wisconsin Voices, and I'll be sharing my thoughts, too. It's a fundraiser-- \$100 donation per person (note your attendance at the fundraiser in the donate form's comment box). Hope to see you there.
