

Written by Citizen Action of Wisconsin, Matt Brusky
Friday, 06 July 2018 14:10 -

Conversation about the progressive upsurge in Democratic primaries and what it means to be a progressive.

MILWAUKEE - In a special episode of Battleground Wisconsin State Senator Chris Larson and Lt. Governor candidate Mandela Barnes join regular panelists Rebecca Lynch and Robert Kraig for an in-depth conversation about the progressive upsurge in Democratic primaries. Are the victories of strong progressive candidates a threat to Democratic election prospects in 2018, or are they a sign of a new reform politics that can change America?

In addition, the panel digs into the question of what it means to be a progressive, and how we can create a movement grounded in empathy and love which both breaks structural racism and sexism, while also inviting in working class voters who have turned away from Democrats in recent elections.

LISTEN NOW - Episode #350
Download MP3
Press Clips