Former Candidate for Governor Andy Gronik urges all his friends and supporters to help Judge Lisa Neubauer become our next Supreme Court Justice.

MILWAUKEE - When things get out of balance they tend not to work as well, or not at all. That's why the framers of our constitution imagined a system where powers would be balanced between the governor, lawmakers and judges. We need look no further than the current #LameDuck session in Wisconsin to appreciate how delicate this system is and to want to prevent the abuse of power. That's one of so many reasons why it's important to get behind Judge Lisa Neubauer, a candidate for Supreme Court Justice of Wisconsin who respects the role of the judicial system and is supremely qualified to serve.

Judge Neubauer's 10-year track record as an appellate judge clearly demonstrates fair, independent and impartial practice. Wisconsin needs to return to a balanced court and government so the voice of the people is heard and intent of our framers is respected. She has already earned the statewide support of hundreds of judges and brings decades of experience as a former litigator with the prestigious law firm Foley & Lardner. Judge Neubauer is also a leader in her Racine community where she serves on boards, helps children learn to read, is a Big Sister and supports breast cancer survivors. Please join me in helping Judge Neubauer become our next Supreme Court Justice by donating whatever you can afford to her campaign and by forwarding this email to all your friends and asking them to do the same.

This election is not about whether you are a democrat or republican, live in the country or city, or are poor or rich. It's about restoring balance and the rule of law to Wisconsin's judicial system with a candidate supremely qualified for the job. In order to make this happen, everyone must be engaged so that together we can honor the system of government our framers envisioned.

Respectfully,

Andy Gronik

Former Candidate for Governor of Wisconsin
