MADISON - LWVWI filed necessary papers to join the lawsuit to prevent Wisconsin voters from being removed from the registration lists

due to the process of identifying voters for removal is erroneous. LWVWI supports efforts to keep the state's voter rolls updated and accurate, and believes removing people from the voter rolls should only be done with reliable information. In an effort to protect voters, LWVWI has filed a motion to intervene to stop Wisconsin Institute for Law and Liberty forcing the Wisconsin Election Commission to remove voters from the rolls. You can read more about the legal action and link to legal documents through the LWVWI website

We need your help.

The League's attorneys are asking to see if we can find anyone who has been mailed the ERIC "mover" notice this fall. (See image below.) They were mailed out in October, but may have arrived at different times. If you have received this notice in the mail this fall, please call Jon Sherman at Fair Elections Center immediately. His number is 202-248-5346, and his email is jsherman@fairelectionscenter.org. This is time-sensitive as our attorneys are trying to file something today or tomorrow in state court. If you received an ERIC notice this fall, please call Jon as soon as you see this email.

Dear Tester,

A transaction with a government agency or a voter registration in another state indicates your address may be different than the address on your current Wisconsin voter registration.

If you have moved, you can register at your new address in one of these three ways:

- Online at myvote.wi.gov or
- On Election Day at your polling place. This option requires you to provide proof of residence. Check if your polling place has changed at myvote.wi.gov or contact your municipal clerk, or
- Submit a registration form to your clerk's office, in person or by mail. A voter registration form, clerk information and proof of residence information can be found here: <https://elections.wi.gov/voters/>.

If you still reside at this address, please use one of the following three options below to confirm:

- Click the gray My Voter Info button at myvote.wi.gov and enter your first name, last name, and date of birth then click search button. Click the green Confirm Your Address button, or
- Vote at the next election; or
- Sign and return the postcard at the bottom of this letter, by mail, or in person to your clerk.

If you have questions, call the Wisconsin Elections Commission toll free at (866) 868-3947 or email elections@wi.gov.
