Seth Meyers was the only late-night host to delve deep into the Dallas police shootings Monday night, and says people blaming Black Lives Matter for Dallas Need to ‘Shut the F*ck Up’.

NEW YORK, NY - On the Monday night after last week's sniper attack on Dallas police officers, it was left to Seth Meyers to tackle the story for all of late-night television.

Across the country, including Green Bay, some politicians have tried to capitalize on the tragedy in Dallas by proposing "Blue Lives Matter" legislation or making other statements intended to further divide our citizens. Seth instead makes the point that it is a time for greater understanding.

Seth takes a closer look at the political response to the deaths of Philando Castile and Alton Sterling, and the shooting of police officers in Dallas in the video below.
