

“A Trump Coup?” Battleground Wisconsin Podcast

Written by Citizen Action of Wisconsin, Matt Brusky
Friday, 21 October 2016 14:03 -

Donald Trump says he won't accept the election results. Is he really threatening a coup, or is this just more slight of hand? Also the Feingold-Johnson race, and why the Republican base continues to support Trump no matter what he says and does.

STATEWIDE - This week the panel starts with the news that Donald Trump will not commit to accepting the election results in November. Is he really threatening a coup, or is this just more slight of hand?

After discussing the third presidential and the second U.S. Senate debates, the panel looks at the latest polling (such that it is). We then dive into some contentious issues in the Feingold-Johnson race, especially TPP and Obamacare, and into the anthropological question of why the Republican base continues to support Trump no matter what he says and does.

We also get an update on the Citizen Action voting right lawsuit, the rigging of the health care system, and more.

LISTEN NOW - EPISODE #265

Download MP3

Citizen Action Media Clips

Citizen Action of Wisconsin · 221 S 2nd St, suite 300, Milwaukee, WI 53204, United States

“A Trump Coup?” Battleground Wisconsin Podcast

Written by Citizen Action of Wisconsin, Matt Brusky

Friday, 21 October 2016 14:03 -

Citizen Action of Wisconsin is a nonpartisan issue focused coalition of individuals and organizations committed to achieving social, economic, and environmental justice.

Find out more about Citizen Action at www.citizenactionwi.org