

Barr says DOJ hasn't uncovered widespread voter fraud in 2020 election

Written by The Hill Press

Wednesday, 02 December 2020 09:25 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 December 2020 11:50

<http://newiproggressive.com/images/stories/S5/barr-thill-12.2020-s5.png>

Trump has for weeks made the false claim that the election was stolen from him.

WASHINGTON, DC - Attorney General William Barr on Tuesday said there has been no evidence of widespread voter fraud that would change the outcome of the election, undercutting President Trump's repeated baseless claims to the contrary.

"To date, we have not seen fraud on a scale that could have affected a different outcome in the election," Barr told The Associated Press in an interview.

Read the developing report here