

GOP nervous that border wall fight could prompt year-end shutdown

Written by The Hill Press

Monday, 17 June 2019 09:55 -

WASHINGTON, D.C. - It's only June, but President Trump's laser-like focus on immigration and desire for a border wall is making GOP lawmakers nervous that lagging talks on a budget deal could further bog down and lead to another government shutdown.

Trump is demanding $5 billion in border-wall funding as part of a deal that would put ceilings on federal spending and raise the debt ceiling.

Read the full story here