

House votes to hold Trump Cabinet members Barr, Ross in contempt

Written by The Hill Press

Wednesday, 17 July 2019 21:03 - Last Updated Thursday, 18 July 2019 12:46

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The House voted to hold Attorney General William Barr and Commerce Secretary Wilbur Ross in criminal contempt on Wednesday, escalating a battle between the Trump administration and congressional Democrats.

The measure holds the Trump Cabinet members in contempt for defying subpoenas for documents on their since-abandoned efforts to add a citizenship question to the 2020 census. Four Democrats joined Republicans in voting against the resolution.

Read the full story here