

Democracy Campaign: Bogus Lame Duck Decision!

Written by Wisconsin Democracy Campaign, Matt Rothschild
Sunday, 16 June 2019 11:59 -

MADISON - The rightwingers on the Wisconsin Supreme Court revealed again this week that they don't care about the law or the evidence. All they care about is backing their buddies, with any shoddy rationale they can think of. Here's my take on their decision this week on the "stay" on the lame-duck legislation:

Wisconsin Supreme Court's Bogus Stay on Lame Duck

In another bad decision, an administrative judge ruled in favor of Foxconn's so-called right to grab 7 million gallons of water a day from Lake Michigan. We found out something about that judge:

Foxconn Case Judge Was Former Walker Aide, Contributor to GOP Candidates

As you might recall, over the last eight years, the Republican legislature passed more than 160 laws that limited local control. Well, that hasn't satisfied them yet, as we note here:

GOP Budget Committee Seeks to Restrict Local Control Over Quarries, Sand Mining

Democracy Campaign: Bogus Lane Duck Decision!

Written by Wisconsin Democracy Campaign, Matt Rothschild
Sunday, 16 June 2019 11:59 -

And in another case about pollution, we laid out the political contributions on both sides of the aisle that employees of Johnson Controls have been making. Now Johnson Controls is in trouble with the Wisconsin Department of Justice:

DOJ Reviewing Case Against Accused Polluter, Big Campaign Donor

I hope you find these stories informative.