Sen. Shilling: Hello, I'm Democratic Leader Senator Jennifer Shilling

Rep. Hintz: And I'm Democratic Leader Representative Gordon Hintz. This week, both the Senate and the Assembly were back in session with unfortunately light calendars. If it wasn't clear to everyone by now - Republicans want to limit the number of remaining session days to avoid scrutiny for their refusal to act on major issues supported by the public.

Sen. Shilling: Assembly and Senate Democrats remain focused on values that put families, workers, and communities first. This week, in communities across the state, we introduced Forward Together a list of legislative priorities focused on the issues Wisconsinites continue to face every single day like lowering health care costs, ensuring our schools are properly funded, and expanding economic security for families and seniors.

compounding the problem. The state's economy is struggling, and the state's infrastructure is crumbling. The state's education system is in crisis, and the state's healthcare system is underfunded. The state's environment is being degraded, and the state's natural resources are being depleted. The state's political system is corrupt, and the state's government is inefficient. The state's people are suffering, and the state's future is uncertain.
