

New Wellstone Data and Analytics Camp Announced

Written by Wellstone Action
Monday, 12 March 2018 16:34 -

Four day workshop, May 22-25th, 2018, will explore how data and analytics can help build long-term power by focusing on community-based approaches.

SAINT PAUL, MN - In May, be a part of the new Data and Analytics Camp, now a hybrid online and in person program. Whether you're leading data strategy or building your campaign website, this training is built for you. We'll explore how data and analytics can help build long-term power by focusing on community-based approaches.

Applications for Data and Analytics Camp in Cleveland are now open. Apply today.

Data and Analytics Camp
Cleveland, OH
May 22-25th, 2018

Over these four days, you'll build a foundation of data analysis, standardization, and strategy, before selecting a specialization to complete online. You'll have the opportunity to dive deeper into engineering, databases, and building power, while connecting with experienced practitioners across the movement.

The online specializations or cohorts range from four to six weeks in length, where you'll tackle real world organizing challenges while building your portfolio.

Pick from:

New Wellstone Data and Analytics Camp Announced

Written by Wellstone Action
Monday, 12 March 2018 16:34 -

Python for Data Science
SQL with GIS
VAN Administration for Campaigns
HTML/CSS in Action Network

Apply for Data and Analytics Camp in Cleveland today. Be a part of a growing movement of data leaders who share this principle: d ata and analytics are about people and the connections between us -- not tech for tech's sake

See you online,
Arianna Trujillo Wesler
Principal, Movement Technology